Y208 Cloak-Making for Beginners: A Tutorial

"For a beginning sewing machine user, this is a guided tour of cloak-making by me. This event includes a discussion of fabric available (and a trip to the fabric store if you like), and a step-by-step walk-through of how to make a simple, lined cloak (hooded or not, child or adult length) suitable for wearing at Halloween, the Renn Faire, or just around town on a chilly afternoon. Location for the tutorial can be at your house or ours. Using your own sewing machine is preferred, but I will bring mine along just in case. Making the cloak will probably take the better part of a day. Fabric not provided, but I am happy to provide some ideas for affordable sources. I have been sewing as a light hobby for about 10 years, mostly making plush toys and Halloween costumes. Cloaks are a great beginner project, because they are easy to visualize even without any pieces sewn together, the stitches are not complicated, and it just feels cool to swirl a cloak about your shoulders.

Donor: Dan Wesely

Y209 Dinner and Games (at Your Place)

For my third and final year, I'm offering a food and games night (hosted at your place)! I will work with the winner to create a dinner and entertainment plan, appropriate for your group. After that, put your feet up and pour yourself a bit of sherry, because I will: Do the shopping (just to be clear, I'm buying), Prep and cook (between my kitchen and yours, depending), bring a pile o'games and lead your group in an evening of merriment. Clean up is (mostly) included. Alcoholic beverages are helpful but (mostly) not included. I'm flexible on group size/composition, but I tend to struggle with over 12 people.

Donor: Eric Groo

Value $200.00 Starting bid $50.00

Y210 Private Voice Lesson

Y312 A Very Special Birdhouse

Years ago, Dick Davis built a wonderful replica of our beloved church building which he offered for our annual auction. My wife Dene pulled me close and said, "I want that birdhouse." I began to bid, and Chris Lambert kept out bidding me. The bidding got so high, I eventually had to stop. As Chris picked up the birdhouse, he walked over to Dene and I, and presented it to us. He and others had formed a consortium to win the model with the purpose of giving it to us. We, of course, were genuinely touched. It's time for another family to enjoy this wonderful gift. Perhaps this year's winner could keep it for a few years, and offer it at another auction.

Donor: Chris King
